FUN HOUSE SAFETY RULES

No opening fire doors.

No sacks on blue slide

No Running

No Fighting

No climbing on tables

No climbing on Chairs

Listen to staff and other children

Our boring but important policies.

Child Protection

It is our job to look after children and to try to protect them. Sometimes some children may experience some abuse from either adults or other children if you feel you cannot talk to your parents, staff at the fun house, teachers or other children there are other people you can talk to who can help you from child line on 0800 1111.

Some of the things you might need help with include:-

Although most people are nice to you some children or adults might not be very nice and might make you feel sad by saying things to you, touching you where you think they shouldn't or hurting you, and although growing up can be difficult, most children and young people receive the love and care they need to develop into healthy, happy young adults.

But some children are hurt, neglected and used by adults or other children. Younger children may not be aware that what is happening to them is abuse.

Abuse can mean different things to different children, and can happen once or many times.

Behaviour Management.

When you are at the fun house it is important for children to play together nicely and behave themselves the best they can.

Sometimes when you are being a bit silly or not playing very nice the staff will need to talk to you about how you behave at the fun house.

The five golden rules when playing at the fun house are:-

1. Be nice and kind to each other
2. Listen to staff
3. Respect each other and toys
4. Help tidy up
5. No fighting or bullying

These and the safety rules are important and you need to try and remember them as much as you can. The rules are there to keep you safe not to stop you from having fun!

If you do sometimes break the rules then the staff will give you two warnings and then you will have 5 minutes thinking time.

Thinking time will be spent with a member of staff discussing what you did and how you can stop yourself from doing it again.

If you continue to break the rules (which I know you won't!!) then you will need to spend some time with Sarah or Cath in the office. (This isn't much fun; the office is a really boring place)

There will be times when we will have to tell your parents what you have done so they can help us to help you too! We will tell you when this is going to happen.

Equal Opportunities.

We at the fun house believe that every one has the same rights to everything and everyone is equal. We celebrate all festivals and include activities to suit all.

Fire alarms

It is important that you know what to do if the fire alarm goes off. (This is very loud and you will know that it is a fire alarm). We do have practise fire alarms but you will not know when these are. (These are to test you and the staff so everyone knows what to do)

If you hear the alarm then you must listen to the staff's instructions. These will be:-

1. Stop what you are doing

2. Line up as quickly and quietly as possible.

It is important that you do not leave the building or room without a member of staff.

3. Once everyone is lined up you will be taken out of the nearest fire exit.

4. And everyone will be gathered and registered at the front gates outside the fun house.

5. Nobody is allowed back in to the building until they are told to by either Sarah or Cath.

HEALTHY EATING.

At Fun House we promote Healthy Eating so at snacks and lunch time we serve
